DOLLAR WHEAT

Called Session County Union So Decrees.

Buy Flour Only From Millers and Merchants Who Handle Ohio County Wheat.

The called session of the County Union A. S. of E. met at Taylor's Hall in Hartford Wednesday, Aug. 15th at 10 o'clock a. m., with President Moreland in the chair, who stated the object of the meeting.

On motion the following Committee on Resolutions was appointed: Hon. A. B. Tichenor, E. G. Austin, E. C. Baird, J. T. Miles, L. G. Weller.

The following Committee on Credentials was appointed: J. L. Miller, John M. Graham, T. F. Tanner, D. Baughn and G. R. Hickey. It was ordered that the delegates be seated at the afternoon session. The session then adjourned to meet at 1 o'clock.

At the afternoon meeting, President Moreland asked the body to endorse written permission for members of the order who live near the line of another county to pool their tobacco in another county, if it is most convenient.

The Committee on Resolutions, through its Chairman, Hon. A. B. Tichenor, made the following report: "Whereas, The A. S. of E. has always demanded a profitable price for all farm products. Therefore, we, your committee, would recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That all owners of merchantable wheat, which will test 58 lbs. per bushel, should hold for one dollar per bushel.

2. Resolved, That owners of wheat of unmerchantable quality should be allowed to exercise their own judgment and discretion in marketing same.

Resolved, That, Whereas, the marketing of our surplus grain has always been upon a very ruinous basis for the farmers, we recommend and urge the organization of a Grain Growers' Association, to fix a fair and equitable price for same, and make permanent arrangements for marketing same upon an equitable basis and that our delegates to the next State Union be instructed to do what they may deem proper for the promotion of such an organization.

A. B. TICHENOR.
E. C. BAIRD.
L. G. WELLER.
J. T. MILES.
E. G. AUSTIN.

The report was received and on motion it was taken up by sections for adoption or rejection. It was known that the delegates were considerably divided upon the best course to pursue upon the wheat question and the resolutions were listened to with intense interest.

Upon being called upon, President Moreland gave his views in a well timed speech, which was appreciated by the delegates. He took the position that, as the great wheat sections were unorganized and selling the entire crop, it would be unwise for Ohio county with her "drop in the bucket" to undertake to control the market. After several speeches on each side of the question, a motion was made and carried limiting all speeches to five minutes. After more than an hour's warm and interesting discussion by such men as Alney Tichenor, John P. Foster, Albert Cox, E. G. Austin, L. G. Weller and others, the first section was adopted by a vote of 31 to 37. The other sections of the report being adopted practically unanimously.

Vice-President Alney Tichenor then presented the following resolution, which was adopted by a large majority:

"Resolved, That we demand our millers and merchants to use the surplus of the Societies' wheat in the county, and that alone, until the surplus is consumed, and that we agree to patronize such millers and merchants and demand of our members to do the same, and we urge all other organized bodies of labor to buy flour made of said wheat."

On motion the following Committee, consisting of two members from each Magisterial district, was appointed to notify the millers, merchants and miners of the passage of the above resolution:

Hartford District—F. W. Pirtle and W. H. Rhodes.

Cromwell District—S. T. Williams and Warren Taylor.

Sulphur Springs District—J. E. Mitchell and Albert Cox.

Fordville District—J. J. Smith and S. F. Whitely.

Burford District—John P. Foster and Jack Miller.

Centertown District—Alney Tichenor and Watt Taylor.

Rockport District—J. E. Maddox and J. W. Brown.

This committee met immediately after the body adjourned, organized for their work, and will meet in Hartford Saturday, Aug. 25, to make report.

The action in reference to our millers and merchants was not taken in a spirit of enmity, but to assist them, and furnish a home market for our surplus wheat as against the cheaper wheat, which is being sent here outside the county.

Notwithstanding there were differences of opinion as to what was best to be done on the wheat question, every delegate present pledged himself to stand firmly by the action of the majority and present a solid front in whatever fight may be necessary to procure their equitable rights.

A report upon the pool pledges for the 1906 tobacco crop, showed a total hills pledged, 8,964,223; unpledged, 1,726,424. Showing 80 1/2 per cent. of the Ohio county crop already pledged.

The meeting adjourned at 5 o'clock.

REDISTRICTING ACT

And Gerrymanter Declared Invalid by Judge Galoway.

Morgantown, Ky., Aug. 15.—At a special term of the Butler Circuit Court held here yesterday to try the case of S. A. Anderson against M. S. Ragland and others, Judge J. M. Galloway granted a perpetual injunction enjoining the defendant as chairman of the Republican county committee of Ohio, Butler and Edmonson, from holding a primary for the section of a candidate for representative in the said county composing the new legislative district created by the new legislative district under house bill 216A. Judgment was rendered declaring the act unconstitutional and an appeal was granted, which will be prepared at once and filed for the coming September term of the Court of Appeals.

Judges W. M. Holt and George DuRelle, of Louisville, were present and represented the plaintiff and defendants were represented by N. T. Howard and G. V. Willis, of this place.

Remarkable Robbery.

Probably one of the most remarkable robberies ever reported in these parts occurred a few miles East of Hartford a few days ago. It was from the crossroads store of D. D. Schroeder that the articles making up the unusual theft was taken which consisted of the following: 150 yards of calico, 40 yards of domestic, 40 packages of Arbuckles Coffee, 75 pounds of Sugar, 50 pounds of flour, three dozen handkerchiefs, two lamps, five pairs of shoes and 20 pounds of candy.

ONLY TWO DAYS

And The Long Awaited Tale Will be Told.

Who Will go to The Cave With us is Now The Question.

In two more days the tell tale votes will all be in and who will go with THE REPUBLICAN to the Mammoth Cave will be determined. Boys in most of the seven districts have manifested a deep interest in the contest. Their efforts have been appreciated and their success whatever it may be will be known to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. A grand rush is expected from now until the last moment and the tide may yet change in favor of other candidates than those in advance.

Who will go with us to the cave is a question that a score of boys are patiently waiting to be answered and it will be answered to-morrow at 5 o'clock p. m.

The standing of the various candidates is as follows:

Argued on Demurer.

The case of C. P. Keown vs. W. S. Tinsley, etc., was argued before Judge Birkhead Wednesday night, on demurer filed by defendants to the petition. United States District Attorney DuRelle, and Judge W. H. Holt, of Louisville, were present to present the case for the plaintiff, and the defendants were represented by Heavrin, Barnett & Smith.

This is the suit brought here to test the Constitutionality of the recent act of the Legislature which deprives Ohio county of a member of the House of Representatives.

The whole question was argued at length, Judge Birkhead giving a patient hearing, and seeming very much interested. Attorneys DuRelle and Holt presented maps and tables showing that one voter of Spencer county has as much voice in legislation as 7 in Ohio county, under this law. They also showed that in 12 Representative districts the population exceeds that of 12 other districts over 300,000.

Judge Birkhead took the case under advisement, agreeing to give a decision sometime next week.

CAME NEAR DROWNING

Did Two Men in Creek Near Fordville—Horse Drowned.

Fordville, Ky., Aug. 13.—Sunday afternoon three buggies started from here to Sulphur Springs, Mr. Alfred Clark and Miss Evelyn Ford being in the rear buggy. When the party got a few miles from town a heavy rain commenced to fall. About this time they met Mr. James Burdett coming from Hartford with one of Mr. Sam Robert's livery rigs and Mr. Clark and Miss Ford turned back and followed the rig towards Fordville. When they reached the creek near Gaines' coal trestle the stream was so high they helped Miss Ford across the creek over the trestle and then Mr. Clark crossed back to the buggy and started to drive up the road a distance, which was flooded and ran some distance parallel with the creek. He had gone but a short distance when the horse and buggy were washed into the stream. The horse was drowned. Mr. Clark swam to a tree, climbed it, and remained there for three and one-half hours before he was rescued. Mr. Burdett succeeded in getting his horses loose from the surrey, mounted one, and got them out after the surrey was overturned by the water.

Company H.

Our local military company is working hard to get in shape for the encampment next week. They will leave Beaver Dam next Tuesday evening at 9:30, over the I. C. for Henderson. They have been ordered to march to Beaver Dam, which will give them their first experience in the soldier's tramp. Capt. DeWeese has been untiring in his efforts to secure uniforms and equipments for the boys, and put them in position to make a creditable showing.

Lieutenants Midkiff and Keown have also given much of their valuable time in drilling and training the young soldiers for service. John Taylor, who has had several years training in military tactics at Louisville, has also been very valuable to the company in drill work.

We all feel proud of Co. H, and expect to hear nothing but good reports from its work at Henderson next week.

City Like.

Down at Fordville they have concrete sidewalks, and a fellow feels like he was stepping along on Fourth street in Louisville. This is a splendid improvement over the old plank and muddy way, and we congratulate the citizens of that town on their up-to-date improvement.—Breckenridge News.

AFTER 35 YEARS

Hopkinsville Girl Will Wed Her Old Ohio Sweetheart.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 14.—Miss Harriet Dietrich, of this city, will be married to-night at Defiance, O., to Guildford Seward, a wealthy manufacturer, of Akron, O. The bride-to-be is sixty-two years of age, and the prospective bridegroom is sixty-five. Thirty-five years ago the couple planned to marry but, on account of parental objections, Miss Dietrich broke the engagement. Since that time Mr. Seward married twice. His first wife lived only a few months, and the second Mrs. Seward twenty years.

Miss Dietrich has been teaching school and was one of the most efficient teachers in the Hopkinsville high school. Over a year ago Mr. Seward rendered his suit, but his sweetheart had promised to remain in the public schools here during the 1905-6 term. At the conclusion of the session Miss Dietrich informed the trustees that she would teach no longer, and went a few days ago, to her old home in Defiance, O., where the long deferred ceremony will be performed to-morrow night by the aged minister who was to have married the couple thirty-years ago. Miss Dietrich is a sister of Prof. Charles H. Dietrich, who was the first superintendent of the Hopkinsville public schools.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, on July 15th, 1906, the Supreme and Divine Ruler of this Universe, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call from this lodge and community, into the presence of the Supreme of us all, our dearly beloved Brother, Arthur G. Moxley. Therefore Be It Resolved,

That by the death of Bro. A. G. Moxley, Shreve Local No. 596, of the A. S. of E., has lost a true, good and worthy Brother, the community a moral, upright and noble citizen, and his mother a kind and indulgent son.

Resolved, That in behalf of each individual member of this lodge, this committee extend to the bereaved mother, brothers and sisters the heartfelt sympathy of us all, and that a page be set apart in our record book of this lodge as a memorial, and a copy of same furnished the family and that they be published in the county papers and the Owensboro Inquirer.

Death of Clayton R. Stevens.

Clayton R. Stevens died at his home at the Almshouse last Saturday evening, after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases resulting from typhoid fever.

Mr. Stevens was born and reared in the Noreck neighborhood but resided near Centertown until last spring, when he was selected by the Fiscal Court to keep the Almshouse. During the short time in which he had been in charge, he gave every evidence that he would make a splendid official to have charge of the unfortunate people in his care both in kind treatment of the inmates, and in looking after the interest of the county.

Clayton Stevens was a true man in every sense of the word, an upright citizen and a loyal friend.

His remains were laid to rest Sunday afternoon at the Carson cemetery in the presence of a large assemblage of his old friends, neighbors and relatives.

Rev. J. A. Bennett conducted services at the grave.

NARROWS.

Messrs. Cyrus Sharp and Jack Walker and Misses Verna Renfrow and Rosa Shreve attended the Chautauqua at Owensboro Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shultz, Messrs. Virge and Bill Renfrow went to Owensboro Tuesday to see Haggenback's show.

Mr. Albert Acton, a Chicago pharmacist, visited friends, relatives and his sweetheart in Ohio county last week.

Misses Annie Dunn and Lou Greene, sales ladies with F. Renfrow & Co., will go to Millwood Thursday for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Dr. A. B. Riley went to Livemore Wednesday to visit her mother, Mrs. D. L. Johnson.

Messrs. John Renfrow, E. G. Kirby, J. C. Lawrence, R. M. Kuykendall, J. H. Thomas and Dr. A. B. Riley are going to Owensboro Friday night to see Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, and, incidentally, to hear him speak.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett returned Tuesday from a few days' visit with friends in Butler county.

Mr. William Hirsch, our sadler, is feeling very kindly just now toward Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lloyd, of Barrett's Ferry. The obligation is on the account of a birthday dinner given to the former by the latter at their home Sunday. Misses Annie Dunn and Lou Greene and Mrs. Hirsch, of this place, were also guests of the occasion. Uncle Billie was sixty-five Sunday, and, contrary to the usual order is growing younger instead of older. May he have many returns of the anniversary of his birth is the wish of a host of friends.

MCCREARY WINS.

County Committees to Name the Election Officers.

Knockout Blow For Beckham and Rats Now Surely Deserting Sinking Ship.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 11. There was a sensational split in the sub-committee having in charge the holding of the Democratic state primary to-day, between the friends of Beckham, Hays, and McChesney on the one side and Hager and Hines on the other, and the full state committee sustained the Hager-Hines faction, the result of which is that a decision was made to allow the primary election officers in the various counties to be appointed by the county committee and not by the state committee.

This victory for local self government fully sustains the contention of Senator McCreary's advisory committee, handed by congressman Stanley, which recently came to Frankfort to ask of chairman McQuown that this be done.

McQuown continued to-day as he did then to contend that the state committee should appoint the election officers and when defeated not only by the sub-committee, but by a majority of the whole state committee he resigned his place on the sub-committee and declined he would have nothing whatever to do with conducting the state primary.

The committee requested him to withdraw his resignation, but this he refused to do and to-night, gave to the press a statement to this effect.

The only man on the sub-committee who sided with McQuown was Rouse, Lassing's man from the Sixth district. Those on the winning side were Ayres, Roark, Fitch and Fogg.

On the matter of the cost of the primary the committee sustained McQuown's estimate of $40,000 and will assess the candidates accordingly. The Tyres faction reported in favor of the $32,000 with a provision for a subsequent assessment, if necessary, upon the successful candidates.

There is great elation to-night among McCreary's friends, who believe that giving the naming of election officers to the county committee insures a fairer election. The refusal of the supporters of Hager and Hines on the committee to do Beckham's bidding is considered deeply significant. It is regarded as a case of rats deserting a sinking ship.

The assessment on the various offices is as follows: United States Senator, $6,500; Governor, $6,500; Lieutenant Governor, $1,000; Attorney General, $4,000; Auditor, $4,500; Secretary of State, $4,000; Treasurer, $1,500; Clerk of the Court of Appeals, $1,500; Superintendent of Public Instruction, $2,000; Commissioner of Agriculture, $2,000.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, and they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their physicians and to the public, a very real and serious condition of the system. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all these distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being equipped as an appetizing codial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve medicine "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and removes mental anxiety and dependency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

The Yellow Fever Germ

has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria poison and constipation. 25c. at Z. Wayne & Bro's. Drug Store.

What They Signify.

How many our readers can tell us what the stripes on a barber pole signify? You see the pole with its stripes, and you know there is a barber shop back of the pole, but here the average person's knowledge ceases. In the early days barbers did the bleeding for the community and surgeon were not as plentiful as now. The first thing thought necessary way down to the time of George Washington's death, was that any patient should be bled—taphim, and take a few ounces of blood from him, no matter how weak he might be. When Washington was at the gasp, the fools bled him. Well, the red stripes on a barber pole mean the red ribbon bandages that barbers bound over the wounds caused by bleeding people. That's all.

When they got through with a plethora man, of full habit and had tapped him like a hard maple tree in February, he was patched up and bandaged till his arms, legs and trunks looked like a mummy.

There is nothing so pleasant as that bright, cheerful, at-peace-with-the-world feeling when you sit down to your breakfast. There is nothing so conducive to good work and good results. The healthy man with a healthy mind and body is a better fellow, a better workman, a better citizen than the man or woman who is handicapped by some disability, however slight. A slight disorder of the stomach will derange your body, your thoughts and your disposition. Get away from the morbidness and the blues. Keep your stomach in tune and both your brain and body will respond. Little indiscretions of overeating can be easily corrected and you will be surprised to see how much better man you are. Try a little Kodol for Dyspepsia after your meals. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Don't drag along with a dull, bilious, heavy feeling. You need a pill. Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. Do not sicken or gripe, but results are good. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

SURPRISE FOR SHERIFF.

Graves County Official Ignorant of Execution of Negro Mathis.

It is quite unusual for a man to be hanged by law in a county without the knowledge of that county's sheriff, says the Paducah News-Democrat, but such a case is now before us at Mayfield, as Graves county's sheriff, Will L. Brand, does not yet know that Allen Mathis was hanged in the jail yard at Mayfield on July 31.

The reason that Mr. Brand has remained in ignorance of the fact is that he has been confined to his home with a very severe illness for several weeks, and while he has been somewhat improved for the past ten days, it was deemed advisable to keep the affair from him. So one can imagine how great Mr. Brand's surprise will be when he recovers and he is told of the execution at the hands of his deputy, Oscar Elmore.

His home is located on South Seventh street about two blocks from the jail, and on the night of the sensational hanging great precaution was necessary to prevent him from surmising something.

Mr. Brand is now able to sit up and it is expected and hoped that he will be down town within a very few weeks.

Prof. Tyler, of Amherst college, said recently: "A man can live comfortably without brains; no man ever existed without a digestive system. The dyspeptic has neither faith, hope or charity." Day by day people realize the importance of caring for their digestion; realize the need of the use of a little corrective after overeating. A corrective like Kodol for Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Death Fight in Darkness.

A news telegram from Cleveland Ohio, says:

A story of a desperate struggle between two brothers and their arch enemy in a park room, the doors of which had been locked, was told at the corner's inquest over the body of Mike Pardovitch to-day.

Pardovitch was a giant and the terror of the Austrian colony in Newburg. He bore a grudge of years standing against Steve and Mike Bergitz, brothers, and entered their home at night to "fix them," he said. Ten boarders fled and the three men locked themselves in a room for a fight to the death. Knives whirled and clashed in pitch darkness. Smothered exclamations of hatred, mingled with half stifled cries of pain as the three in silence fought to kill and live.

The fight lasted fifteen minutes, ending when the giant had been slain. Mike Bergitz is held for murder, his brother has disappeared.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist Church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a Godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints, and complete physician collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in 50 minutes and feel like walking three more. Its made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's. Drug Store. Price 50c.

Cabbage Snakes.

[Elizabethine Mirror.]

Very soon horrible tales of cabbage snakes will be going the rounds, and people will once more stand in mortal fear of cabbage. These "snakes" are not snakes and have not the slightest relation thereto. They are long hair-like parasitic insects, that hatch and develop

SUPPORT

SCOTT'S EMULSION serves as a bridge to carry the weakened and starved system along until it can find firm support in ordinary food.

Sold for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409-415 Pearl Street, New York. 50c and $1.00; all druggists.

in the bodies of grasshoppers and crickets. As the parasites increase in size they destroy the vitality of the vessels of which they have taken possession, which finally weaken and die. The parasites or "snakes" then pass from the bodies of the insects, and try to find another home, which must be cool and moist. The peculiar constructions of the cabbage head makes it the place best adapted for that purpose. The spaces between the cupped leaves are always both moist and cool, and they can draw from the tender cabbage sufficient food to sustain them without apparently affecting the cabbage, but it is known that grasshoppers frequent growing cabbage, and no doubt leave them there.

They are not at all poisonous, but if one eats cabbage, either cooked or raw, he prefers that it would be such as is not infested with these strange occupants. About the only remedy is to keep the field freed from grasshoppers and crickets.

Frightfully Burned.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result: "a quick and perfect cure." Greatest healer on earth for Burns, Wounds, Sores, Eczema and Piles. 25c at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's, Druggists.

CRAZY MAN

Imagines That President Roosevelt is His Enemy.

Hawesville, Ky., Aug. 14.—Estill House, one of the most prominent young men in the county, has been adjudged to be of unsound mind and taken to the Hopkinsville lunatic asylum. He is entirely rational on every point but one. He says that President Roosevelt and George Freeman a fictitious person with him, are in collusion and have an electric machine with which they are removing his brains and blood. He says that at night Roosevelt hides in his neighbor's barn, and in the day in his house. On two different occasions he went to the barn late at night with a pistol and unloaded it on his imaginary persecutor. Neighbors took him home on each occasion. He is not expected to live.

State Militia to Have Good Practice.

Lexington, Ky., August 14.—Captain V. K. Dodge, inspector of the state guard rifle practice, has gone to Henderson, to prepare a rifle range for the use of the state guard there. Captain Dodge's staff—Captain J. R. Sams and Lieutenants King and Griffith—have also gone to Henderson.

The government has appropriated $25,000 to the state rifle practice each year. Captain Dodge intends to make the Henderson rifle range this year one of the best schools of instruction ever given the Kentucky soldiers. The First Kentucky goes into camp first and then the Third regiment. The second, of which Senator J. Embury Allen has just been made Colonel, will go into camp last.

Slain by His Own Gun.

Jacob Boyer, a well-known farmer of near Finesville, N. J., accidentally killed himself in a peculiar manner in front of his home and in the presence of his family July 4.

Boyer had been aggravated during the day by dogs chasing his sheep, and later, when one of the strange dogs got into a fight with the family dog in front of the Boyer house, he secured a double-barreled shotgun and fired twice at the intruding dog. At his request Mrs. Boyer brought two more loaded shells out of the house, which Boyer placed into the gun. The next shot wounded the dog and Boyer then tried to beat the animal to death with the stock of the gun, when the second charge exploded and the shot fatally injured the farmer by tearing the flesh from his right thigh and entering his abdomen. Death resulted in a half hour. Boyer was 45 years of age.

Why does the sun burn? Why does a mosquito sting? Why do we feel unhappy in the Good Old Summer Time? Answer: we don't. We use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, and these little ills don't bother us. Learn to look for the name on the box to get the genuine. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

We are requested by the Police Judge to call attention of parents to an annoyance which has become chronic in our town. An old half-witted colored woman, known as "Aunt Mina," is constantly creating a scene on the streets, all because she is annoyed and nagged by boys, and some who cannot exactly be classed as boys. She is harmless and quiet except when called names by those persons who do not hear her scold and rave, and then it becomes a perfect nuisance to other people who are trying to attend to their usual business. The Police Judge says, the next time this happens, some one will be arrested and fined, and he intimates that it will not be the old half-witted negress.

For Sale.

New two story frame dwelling in Hartford. Six rooms, two nice halls. Lot 100 feet front 210 feet deep. Good well. Situated corner Fredrick and Griffin streets. Two thirds cash, balance in 12 months. A bargain. BARNETT & SMITH.

TO BOYCOTT OWENSBORO.

Equity People of Yelvington Pass Sweeping Resolutions Against City.

[Owensboro Daily Press.]
The Yelvington local of the A. S. of E. has started a sweeping boycott on the city of Owensboro and calls upon the other locals of the county to join it. The cause of the boycott is the action of the city government in attempting to collect taxes assessed on tobacco belonging to the society in pooling houses in Owensboro. At the last meeting of the city council this matter was referred to the assessment committee. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by Yelvington local union No 1, of the A. S. of E. at a regular meeting held Saturday afternoon, July 21:

Whereas, It is rumored that the city of Owensboro proposes to tax our pooled tobacco for city purposes and, whereas, we as farmers, feel that we are already being taxed to the limit. Be it

Resolved, That if the city of Owensboro persists in taxing said tobacco that we favor securing pooling houses outside the city limits, and further, we recommend that the farmers of Daviess and adjoining counties refuse to take their produce there or sell to hucksters who run into the city. We ask the other locals of Daviess county to consider this matter, for if the rumor is found to be correct we expect to bring it up at the next meeting of county union. W. J. BOARD, Sec. A. F. Action of Modern Bullets.

Although the bullets of modern military rifles are smaller than those formerly used, they appear to work more destruction. They tear a larger hole than one would expect, and in other ways produce surprising effects. Owing to the use of smokeless powder, they travel with a higher velocity than the older projectiles, and this fact is believed to explain indirectly the results observed. "Engineering," a London periodical, says that it has been proved that neither the rotation of the bullet about its longitudinal axis, due to the rifling nor the heat of impact, has much to do with the phenomena. Various investigations carried out on behalf of military departments or humanitarians, seem to demonstrate that the liquid particles in the human body hit by the bullet are simply hurled with great force against the liquid particles at rest and against the surrounding walls, and that there is no need to look for any further effect.

KEPT RAIN FROM HER HAT

Bright Idea of Stenographer Saved Headgear from Ruin in Sudden Downpour.

The office boy had sped away with her umbrella, and the stenographer was in a distressing predicament. It was raining and it was time to go home. Already the offices in the building were deserted and the janitor and the scrub man were making their rounds.

"I wouldn't care so much for my clothes," she said, "but the rain will simply ruin my new hat. I just bought it yesterday, too."

Then a smile came over her face as an idea struck her.

"Ah, the rubber typewriter cover," she exclaimed, and dashed across the room to her machine.

The rubber cover fitted over her hat very nicely. She stood in the door until a car approached, then ran into the street and boarded it.

"Never a drop on my hat," she said proudly as she took off the cover and folded it into a little parcel which she placed on her lap. When it came time to alight from the car the rain had ceased.

FREE FROM ALL CRIME.

No Magistrates, Policemen or Other Officers of the Law Needed in Labrador.

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, the "Premier of Labrador," as he is dubbed by those who love and honor him, holds sway over a population of 10,000 people, of whom 3,000 are whites settled along the south coast, as many more Eskimos scattered along the northern water front of that rigorous land, while the remainder are mostly half-breed Indians. Besides these, Labrador is visited each summer by 20,000 persons from Newfoundland, of which it is a dependency, to engage in fishing.

Notwithstanding all these diversified races and interests, there is no court nor jail, magistrate nor policeman, nor any other officer of the law on this 1,000 miles of seaboard, nor in the interior, where multitudes are wrestling a subsistence from the ocean and the land.

Whenever any serious charge is made, a magistrate is sent, or is supposed to be, from Newfoundland, to attend to it. And yet for 33 years no session of court has been held, and in 50 years the only criminal charge that has been recorded was that against an Eskimo, whose jealousy was aroused against a rival in his wife's affections, and who shot the man as he was walking by her side.

Forty years ago a circuit court was sent there every summer, but as it found nothing to claim its attention, it went out of business and was finally abolished.

Years ago, Labrador was famous as being a rendezvous and stronghold of pirates, often requiring a French squadron to break it up, but in recent years unusual attention has been paid to the region, and it is now held that even piracy, carried on by freebooters from afar, is a thing of the past.

A Famous Battle Run.

John A. Boyle, of Newton, Mass., took part in the civil war, and liked to tell about his experiences. At a meeting one evening he told about the experience he had at the battle of Bull Run, as follows:

"I saw the men drop their guns and run, so I dropped mine and ran, too, but I was chased by one of the enemy, who had his gun in his hand. I ran the fellow a good race for two miles, and then I stumbled and fell, and was expecting him to come up and shoot me. He didn't come, so I looked around to see where he was, and to my surprise saw him sprawled out on the ground about two yards from me. I got up and looked at him, and saw that he had died from apoplexy."

Boyle's hearers asked what he did next, and he replied: "I wept for the man that I had run to death."

The Secret of Boiling Water.

To boil a thing well it is not necessary to boil it hard. The average kitchen Mary thinks that the more commotion in the water the better it is, and in order to produce this she burns a great deal of fuel and ruins the stove by keeping it red-hot. Water placed in a stewpan directly over a red-hot lid will, of course, boil more vehemently, yet it will not cook meat or potatoes any quicker, and not so well as water that just keeps at the boiling point and quietly simmers.—Farming.

BUSINESS COLLEGES ARE FAILURES

In small cities and towns, because:
1. There is not a sufficient population to support a GOOD school.
2. Such schools are usually conducted by persons who are NOT qualified, or who make it a practice to travel about and de-lude their patrons.
3. There are few if any opportunities for their graduates to secure employment in such localities.
4. The THOROUGH business colleges are situated in the larger cities and are conducted by persons who are qualified.
5. The graduates of business colleges in small cities or towns can not secure employment in large cities when thrown in competition with the THOROUGH graduates of high-class schools, as business men have no time to experiment with incompetents.
Therefore, be wise. Send for the finest 68-page catalogue ever issued by a commercial school, before deciding to throw away your money.

TRAVELED PRESIDENTS.

Many of Our Chief Executives
Have Been Abroad in Various Climes.

In the sense of having sojourned abroad even Washington was a travel ed man, though he went out side the United States but once. That was when, in his youth, he accom- panied Lawrence Washington in a tour of the West Indies, which the latter made in the vain hope of restoring his health. But of Wash- ington's associates, both of his prime and his latter life many were distin- guished foreigners and his quick per- ception of the trend of European affairs was undoubtedly stimulated by his course of the revolution Wash- ington could draw for information on the stories of the experience of Lafayette, Rochambeau, Count Fer- sen, Kosciusko and Steuben, two brilliant-Frenchmen, a gifted Swede a famous Pole and a most observant German. Washington was visited after the revolution by most for- eigners traveling in this country. He did not need to go to Europe, says the Boston Transcript. Europe came to him.
Our second and third president, Adams and Jefferson had seen much of the "great world" abroad. They knew it at first hand. Both had been diplomats, and Jefferson at least a close student of the social conditions of Europe on the eve of the French revolution. Madison ap- pears to have been a home-staying man; but James Monroe, who suc- ceeded Madison was twice in France — once as minister and once as spe- cial envoy. His name will ever be associated with the Louisiana pur- chase. He also carried on important negotiations in great Britain and Spain, which made him familiar with the society of London and Madrid.

John Quincy Adams may be de- scribed as travel bred from boyhood. He was at school at Paris when but 11 years old, and in his subsequent diplomatic career he acquired a knowledge of Europe which few Americans of his time could rival. London, Berlin, St. Petersburg were familiar cities to him. He watched at close range the great game on the European chess board, and when he became secretary of State simply moved from one department of di- plomacy to another.

Martin Van Buren was the next of our Presidents to gain a foreign experience. He was our minister to Great Britain just long enough to feel the whole bitterness of a forced recall when the senate refused to confirm his nomination. His mar- tyrdom helped toward making him president, however, greatly to the chagrin of those who thought they had put an ineffaceable humilia- tion upon him. William Henry Har- rison was occupying a diplomatic post in South America when Jackson was inaugurated, and "Tippecanoe" did not save him from removal.

Not until sixteen years after Van Buren went out of the White House did we have a president who had known the old world by travel and residence. Buchanan had been at one time our minister to St. Peters- burg, and later had represented us at the court of St. James. Although the facilities for European travel were greatly improved after 1850, of all our presidents since Buchanan, Roosevelt is the only one who ap- pears to have acquired familiarity with Europe by travel previous to becoming a presidential candidate. Europe, indeed, seems to have been considered the resort of ex-presi- dents. Fillmore, Pierce and Grant traveled extensively in the old world, and Benjamin Harrison went abroad as chief counsel for Venezuela be- fore the arbitration tribunal. Pierce, Taylor and Grant are to be included among the presidents who had been beyond our borders before their candidacies, for military service carried them to Mexico.

The emphasis which Mr. Bryan's friends are placing upon his exten- sive foreign travels as a qualification for the presidency suggests that the occupants of that office have been thus favored more than would be generally supposed, especially the presidents of the early half of the century, when travel was much less general than now. No president had ever been around the world be- fore his election to office, to be sure, and there are no immediate signs that a new precedent will be estab- lished.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for and case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

DROWNED IN TUB.

Little Sisters and Brothers Were Not Strong Enough to Rescue the Baby.

Beech Grove, Ky., Aug. 11.—An infant of Mr. and Mrs. Will Cooper, aged about one year, was drowned in a tub of water sitting under the eaves of the house. The child had gone to sleep and Mrs. Cooper went out to do some work.

When the child awoke its little brothers and sisters drew it out on the porch near the edge. In play- ing in the cradle the child fell over into the tub of water, and none of the children being strong enough to pull it out, it died before its mother could get to it.

Mr. Cooper is in ill health and has gone to Kirkwood Springs for his health. The family tried to get him by telephone, but was informed that Mr. Cooper had gone to Dawson Springs, and at last reports they had failed to find him.

The remains were buried at the Methodist graveyard on Friday.

How Long May a Man Live?

Should a man, living a normal life, live 100 years? The question is being raised again, according to the New York Press. Well, Flourens says that a man is twenty years growing and that the normal animal lives five times the period of his growth. That would give man just a century of life. But Buffon says every animal lives six or seven times as long as it grows. That would give a man a normal age of 120 to 140 years. The insurance tables, ever, do not bestow such longevity. After all, what man lives a normal life? Old Parr lived to be 152 and then killed himself by going on a "tear" up in London. The great Harvey made the post-mortem ex- amination of old Parr and has left it on record that his viscera were all sound, the cartilages of the ribs had not ossified and there was no obvious reason why he might not have lived for fifty years more if he had not kicked up his heels and tried to paint the town. Cut off in his prime at 150! What warning this is to eld- erly gentlemen, who try to "do up" the metropolis.

Unfamiliar Facts.

About 150,000 persons die every year of tuberculosis in France.

The teagardens of Northern India tend over 500,000 acres, and they produce 190,000,000 pounds of tea per annum, a profit of about $100 an acre.

Philanthropic Sparrows.

An incident which, the writer de- clares, raised the pugnacious spar- row several degrees in his estima- tion is described in Outing. It shows that the sparrow has other good qualities besides his sturdiness and self-reliance.

For several days four or five spar- rows had visited a certain place on the roof near my window. They al- ways brought food for another little fellow, who never tried a flight from the spot. The visiting sparrows never came empty-billed. They would drop tiny morsels of food near the little sparrow. When it began to eat the crumbs the others

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of execution No. 40 di- rected to me, which issued from the Clerk's office of the Ohio Circuit Court, in favor of S. A. Anderson Admr. against John A. St. Clair and M. L. Heavrin.

I, or one of my deputies, will, on Monday the 3rd day of September, 1906, between the hours of one o'clock p.m., and three o'clock p.m., at the Court house door in Hart- ford Ohio county, Kentucky, expose to public sale, to the highest bidder the following property (or so much thereof as may be necessary to sat- isfy Plaintiff's debt $136.56 interest, and cost), to-wit:

A tract or parcel of land, lying in and near Centertown Ohio County, Kentucky, on the West side of Mill Street, being the Northern part of two lots of ground conveyed to Re- neer Bros., by A. L. Rowe, etc., by deed of record in the Ohio County Clerk's office, Deed Book 19, page 488 and book 24, page 18 and bound- ed as follows:

Beginning at a stone on the West side of Mill street; thence N. 2 W. 20 poles and 31 links to a stone at the West side of said street; thence N. 88 W. 16 poles and 17 links to a stone; thence S. 2 W. 20 poles and 31 links to a stone; thence S. 88 E. 16 poles and 17 links to the beginning containing 2 acres more or less, the property conveyed to J. W. Chan- cellor by L. E. and C. K. Reneer on October 26th, 1903, and recorded in Deed Book No. 26, page 129, and which was conveyed to J. A. St. Clair by J. W. Chancellor and wife upon which property a Mill house, flour mill, boiler and engine and a lot of other machinery are situated all of which is levied upon as the property of J. A. St. Clair, by going upon said property and tacking a written notice of the levy herein upon the mill door and also by leav- ing a written notice of the said levy at the home of the defendant, St. Clair, he being absent from the State.

TERMS—Sale will be made on a credit of three months, bond with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from day of sale, and having the force and effect of a sale bond.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17.

TOO MUCH EVEN FOR GOAT

Animal's by No Means Delicate Stomach Unable to Digest Bucket Full of Lye

Billy Batta, pet of the battle ship West Virginia, the menagerie ship of the north Atlantic squadron, went on the sick list the other day, says the New York Herald. He is ordered on a diet of predigested breakfast foods, and for a goat that has never balked on anything from a paper of pins to a grand piano when he was hungry, it is a terrible humiliation.

Bill is a medium-sized goat. He joined the West Virginia at St. Thomas in the West Indies last winter. He wandered on the gun deck when the men were scrubbing down, and when he saw a bucket of lye it looked so good to him that he just had to drink it. He gave one plaintive bleat for help and then tried to butt an eight-inch gun into Wallabout bay.

"Stumpy" McGill, veterinary for the ship's menagerie, was summoned and Billy tried to swallow all the antidotes that could be found, but the lye had seared his throat and not even cigarette stumps, to which he has always been partial, seemed to satisfy him. When a liberty party went ashore the men promised to bring aboard some old circus posters to see if they would taste good to Billy.

Billy is no common goat, and every man on the ship, from Rear Admiral W. H. Brownson to the youngest apprentice, is fond of him. The only thing yet found that he would not try to eat is a handsome blanket made especially for him, which he wears every Sunday morning when he takes his place with the men for general inspection.

There is just one living thing on board the West Virginia that Billy is afraid of, and that is a brown Leghorn rooster, which one of the crew picked up at St. Thomas in a way that is not approved by the navy regulations. When the rooster starts for Billy the goat runs to one of the men for protection and acts as if he did not believe roosters were fair fighters.

Besides the goat and rooster the West Virginia has three parrots, which are taking a course in navy English; three dogs, five cats and two monkeys. The monkeys stay down in the engine room, but the rest of the menagerie has the liberty of the ship.

Another Germ Fiend.

"Do you have your nails manicured?" asked the doctor. "Don't do it. Those little manicurists never sterilize their instruments. Easiest thing I know to get blood disease in that way. I never have mine manicured. I never have a barber shave me, either. Same dread of blood disease. Did you ever hear of a barber who sterilized his razors? Well, I guess not."

"It would be a cold day for barbers and manicurists if every body was like you," his companion remarked, tranquilly, as he walked into the barber shop.

Cause of Marital Unhappiness. "When marriages are unhappy," said "Mark Twain" at a dinner, "it is usually because the husband isn't tender and observant about trifles."

"The husband is too much like the young man who sat slinging with great expression:

"I love thee! I love thee! With a love that cannot die! With a love that cannot die!"

"His wife just then came in and said:

"James, I want a scintille of coal."

"Oh, go to the dickens," said he."

Still in Love.

"The last time I saw them they behaved as if they were very much in love with each other. Isn't that interesting news?"

"News?" Why, man, where have you been all this time? They were married two weeks ago."

"Of course; I know that. The last time I saw them was this morning."

Only a Suspicion.

"How many languages can your man talk?"

"Ever so many. I suspect him of proposing to me in two or three of them, just to tantalize me."

Irrigation in Nevada.

The irrigation work of the national government has made its first great conquest in this same Nevada. Into this parched sand and sagebrush the water was turned last year from the works of the "Carson and Truckee project." It was the most important event in the history of the state, of more lasting value even than the discovery of the Comstock lode. From the massive masonry dam constructed to hold the waters of the Truckee river the blessed flow was turned over 50,000 acres.

This was the first completed section of a plan which is to irrigate almost 1,000,000 acres of desert. This means, within a few years, 50,000 farms for 20,000 families, on which they are certain of large and profitable crops. It means also new towns and cities to supply this great farming community with the products of the mills and mines and factories of the country, east and west.

More than that, it means a new population of perhaps 200,000 souls and a prosperous principality added to the greatness of the union. It is all purely creative, for wealth is made where there was none before, and magnificent opportunity offered for independent and self-reliant livelihood to those who hunger for it. —Onting Magazine.

Prescribed for Herself.

Little Alice has an aged uncle who lives near her and whom she regards as an inexhaustible source of ice cream, candy, toys and nickels. The other day Alice, in playing about, got her foot jammed between two stools which came close together, and in the operation of extracting the little one from her predicament the foot was badly abraded. That night she sat on the stoop of her house, her injured foot done up with bandages and her mind rueful that she could not sport with her companions. To her, appeared her aged and benevolent uncle.

"Well, well, little one," said he, "how is the foot getting on to-day?"

"Oh, it is better," replied Alice with a sigh, "it is a little better. But it would be a great deal better if I only had some ice cream."

The prescription was filled at once and really did seem to afford instant relief.

Food for Plants.

"How do you keep your palms looking so fine and healthy?" asked a young housekeeper of an old one, whose apartment is a perfect hothouse of ferns and palms. "I fed them oysters all winter," said the successful one. "Whenever we had oysters for dinner I dug up the earth a little around the roots of the plants and put an oyster in each."

"Himmel!" exclaimed the third, who was a German. "I pour the stale beer on mine always. It is fine for them."

"Mercy!" said the young housekeeper. "I wouldn't know whether I was running a conservatory or a table d'hôte."

Aliases of the Great.

Some investigator of curious subjects has discovered that the inventor of traveling incognito was Peter the Great of Russia. The next after the famous Russian sovereign to adopt the practice was Joseph II. of Austria, who in 1777 made a little stay in Paris under the title of Count von Falkenstein. During the revolutionary period Louis XVIII. buried his temporary useless royal dignity under the privacy of Comte de Marles. The ex-Empress Eugenie in her splendor frequently took little trips as the Comtesse de Pierrefort. King Leopold does so still as Comte de Ravenstein. —L. E. change.

GREAT AWAKENING IN PEKIN

Real Advance Made in Cleaning and Improving the Capital City of China.

A competent authority on things Chinese states that during the last two years China has made more real advancement than in the previous millennium, says the Century. That his judgment is sound is apparent to those who enjoy the vantage point of a residence in Peking. It has long been predicted that changes would be surprising in their speed, but the most sanguine had not hoped for what is taking place.

In passing through Peking, the streets seem to be the most striking phenomenon. Three years ago there seemed little hope that the black mud, and the disgusting sights and stenches would ever give place to anything better. The board that had been appointed to repair the streets was considered to have an Augean task and was the butt of many facetious remarks. Now the broad thoroughfares are fast being converted into handsome avenues. The central portion, a strip of about seven yards in width, is being well macadamized with the best. Long-forgotten sewers have flanked on each side by shallow drains of brickwork, a row of trees, an unpaved strip of five yards in good repair, then a curbed sidewalk of varying width, cheaply cemented with pounded lime and earth. The building line has been straightened, necessitating the rebuilding of many shops the rehabilitation of which is in keeping with the rest. Long-forgotten sewers have been reopened, and places of convenience erected, the use of which is made compulsory. Innumerable unsightly sheds which have occupied half the roadway are being removed, forever, it is hoped, and the squatters have sought other fields in which to ply their trades. The new roadways are guarded by uniformed police in their sentry boxes, and kept in order by numerous laborers. Fine telephone poles, strung with countless copper wires, replace the topsy-turvy line of the last few years. The telephone is no longer a curiosity, but is fast becoming a necessity to progressive business men.

When the Groom Registers. A bachelor friend of mine who travels a great deal says he can always tell by the hotel register who are the newly married people. "It is just this way," he explained. "The masculine name is written with the usual careless flourish, indicating habit, but in the words that follow—'and wife'—there is a noticeable change. The pen has evidently lingered over them, and they are written with a care and precision and plainness that cannot be mistaken, with the least bit of awkwardness, too. It is a sort of idiosyncrasy of these newly-made husbands to use that special formula, while those to whom marriage is an old story, whose romance the years have not dimmed, but made a part of everyday life, simply write in the register 'Mr. and Mrs. —.' Now, that is not merely a notion of my own; it is backed up by expert evidence from experienced hotel proprietors and clerks. I had noticed it so frequently that I asked some questions concerning it, and found my observation to be correct."

Revised.

"His great boast is that he always says what he thinks."

"Of no; you've got that a little twisted."

"Not at all. He told me that himself."

"Perhaps so, but that was before he met Bauger. He always thinks what he says now."

Poor Place to Look.

Casey—When I seen Riley the day he said he was lookin' fur work.

Cassidy—I'll bet he wasn't lookin' fur it very hard.

Casey—Well, he was lookin' through the bottom of a beer glass fur it most o' the time.

Wouldn't Be Allowed.

Tramp—Madam, I have eight children at home crying for bread. Lady—Then I'll bet two dollars you don't live in a flat.

Opposed to the Process.

"Come, Tommy; it's time for you to take your bath."

"I don't want to be washed, mamma! Give me a dry cleaning, like they do papa's white vests."

Put to the Proof.

"Then you guarantee these corsets—I mean this corset—to be unbreakable?"

"I do, miss," said the salesgirl, firmly. "I have been wearing a pair myself for a year and they're not broken yet. And I," she added.

A Skeptic.

"But do you not concede his eminent respectability?"

"No; the best I'd say about his respectability is 'imminent,' and I wouldn't bet on that."

The Professor.

The professor, who was waiting for a train and did not like to let the time go to waste, stepped on the platform of a weighing machine and dropped the necessary small coin into the slot.

The machine kept the penny, but refused to take any further action.

"Well," muttered the professor, "besides being an innocent bystander I seem to be an out-of-the-way bystander."

There was a subdued rattle, as if something had broken in the machine, but the indicator didn't move.

Not a Favorable Errand.

"Ever see the lovely Miss Summers?"

"Yes, I called there one afternoon."

"Eh! Made a favorable impression?"

"I'm afraid not. I called to inspect their gas meter."

Evidence.

She—What made the magistrate think Mr. Hickson was intoxicated?

He—He stopped his motor car at a drinking trough for horses.

A Stronger Word.

"But, really, now," asked Miss Gusch, "don't you think Mr. Kidder has a delicate wit?"

"It's more than delicate," replied Mr. Chellus, "it's sickly."
